Regarding the Japan Fair Trade Commission's Review Results on the Business Integration between Hino Motors and Mitsubishi Fuso

We are pleased to announce that today the Japan Fair Trade Commission has completed its review under the Antimonopoly Act and has approved the business integration between Hino Motors and Mitsubishi Fuso.

The two companies will join forces as new partners and take the next step forward together. Through the integration of our technologies, talent, and expertise, we aim to shape the future of commercial vehicles and to meet the expectations of all our stakeholders.
